HELEN PRINT WON SPRINT HANDICAP.

Daniel's Mare Was Held at Long Price of 7 to 1 and Ran Over Her Field at End.

BENGAL AT FALSE PRICE.

Winner of Last Race Was First Easily at 7 to 1, When 3 to 1 Would Have Been a Long Price.

Helen Print, at odds of 7 to 1, won the sprint handicap at Delmar yesterlay, as she should have won it. She was slow to begin, was last up the back stretch, then ran over her horses in the last quarter, and won as she pleased at the end, Stand Pat, at 13 to 5, was second. This horse was in close quarters behind Frank Bell and Maltster up the stretch, and could not get out until they straightened away. Still. Print was undoubtedly best.

The mare was held at a very long price, her last race considered. She was taking up a little weight, but is improving daily. She was a high-class 2-year-old in John Huffman's hands. As a 5-year-old she beat Dewey, Terra Firma, Corrigan and others easily a mile in 1:40. Chris Schawacker had her then. She was fairly potsoned in her training. Mr. Daniels seems to be a good man with a horse and to be improving the mare.

Her best distance is probably seven furlongs, as she is not a scrambling sprinter who can get down and dig at the start. If she rounds to really well there is not a herse at Delmar who can beat her up to BARONET BADLY BEATEN. Baronet was a swell-looking 3-to-5 shot in the fifth race. He is worth all of $2. Carrie Hope and Hook-Se-Oka beat him without trouble. At that, Smith did not give him a good ride. He handled him badly at all stages and ran him in behind Carrie Hope in the stretch, when he seemed to be doing his best.

Another horse to win at a false price was Bengal, at 7 to 1, in the last race. He set all his own pace and beat Mynhee and Jim Clark. He beat Mynheer just as he did before. Clark has run about one good race in a year. Bengal would have been a long price at 2 to 1.

Lona S. won the first at nice odds. Pinky R, was the best, but got tangled up in KING ROSE LOOKS LIKE WINNER. He Is Giving Away a Lot of Weight, but Should Beat the Had Lot.

On his last race, which was a first out, are the ones he has got to beat. Jean is not a had sort if he gets off well. Rose is giving away oodles of weight, but that will not

DOCTOR CARTLEDGE'S DAY Doctor Cartledge has not run his races since he won. This should be his day. Yenom, Quaker Girl and Comoro will go more or less well, but Cartledge is a good colt, and he should beat them. Yenom will be a price and has a fine chance at the wights.

TONY LEPPING'S CHANCES. Tony Lepping's last race was good enough to land him here. He went well to the stretch, then tired as if short. If Helen Hay steams up on her toes she will make him run. She went to the post dry and cold on the occasion of her last two attempts. Miss Eon has a chance. Old Belle Simpson looked well last time. If she is up to her form she can trim this sort with great case. EDA RILEY LOOKS CERTAIN.

Eda Riley should breeze home in the fourth, if Mr. Orr has her ready. Josie F. has no chance to beat her, provided Bla is right. Landoln should be third. It is strictly a three-horse race, and it may not be wise to play the favorite at a short price, though Eda does look like a 7-to-5 shot.

BEN LEAR IN HARD RACE.

The flifth race is hard indeed. Ben Lear should beat this sort. Olonetz and Alflo will both go well. Doctor Kammerer has early speed, and is good and fresh just now. Carley's Dream ran a good race when he wen, and may come buck with a better one, but Ben Lear looks best. TIOGA AND TICKFUL.

Tioga looks best in the sixth. Tickful has un in the eighth inning.

After the first inning McFarland was hared to the bench and O'Neill was sent to the fore to try and redeem the mistakes of his predecessor. For the eight innings that he worked O'Neill gave a very clever exhibition of pitching.

During this time the best the Phillies ould do was to score one run and make our hits. In the third, fourth, fifth and seventh innings O'Neill sent the visitors to he mourners' bench in one-two-three order. Not once during the season has O'Neill shown such an assortment of pitching asects. Mike had speed and curves in abundince. His control was almost perfect, The only miscue charged against O'Neill was when he hit Zimmer with the ball in the ninth irning. Duggleby, who pitched for the visitors, was more effective than he has been on former visits here. He let the locals down with six hits, which he kept well scattered. He also had excellent control, and but one of the locals reached first, Barelay's running catch of Thomas's fly was the fielding feature of the day. Hulswitt also played a pretty game at short. He made a play in the first inning which choked off an incipient batting rally by the ocals. Farrell was occupying first when Smoot cut a sharp single down toward right field. Keister went after the ball and made wide throw to head Farrell off at third. The throw was a bad one and Farrell kept on toward home, while Smoot turned for second. Hulswitt went over to the pitcher's ox and made a nice one-hand catch of the return, throwing the ball to second in time to cut Smoot down.

PHILLIES OFF IN FRONT. The Phillies started off in the first inning, and after jabbing McFarland's benders all over the field managed to score four runs. Thomas, the first man up, singled and took second on Gleason's well-placed sacrifice hit. Wolverton singled, scoring Thomas, Kelster singled. Titus tripled, scoring Wolver-ton and Keister. Barry fouled out to Jack Hulswitt singled, scoring Titus, and took second on a wild pitch by McFarland. Zim-mer walked. Duggleby was overheated, and fanned himself three times, retiring the

The Cardinals scored one in the first on Barry's error on a chance to retire Farrell and Smoot's single.

From the second until the fourth inning neither side scored, when the Cardinals aded a tally. Smoot walked, and west second on an eror by Barry. Barchay det to Titus. Burke singled, moring Honer, but was out stealing second. Hackettiles but was out stealing second. Hackett flew to Hulswitt.

In the sixth inning the Carlinals tied the score by making two runs. Farrell hit to Hulswitt, who threw the bull under the gate, allowing Johnny a free circuit of the bases. Donovan singled, and took second on Smoot's sacrifice. Barchay singled, secring Donovan. Burke singled, Barchay was out at third on Hackett's tap into Duggleby DeMont fouled to Woiverton.

In the eighth inning the "Phillips" scored the fatal tally that gave them the game. Woiverton singled, and took second on Keister's tap to Farrell, the latter going out to Hackett. Barry was out to Hackett unassented. Hulswitt flew to Farrell.
